2016 Lansing State Journal Thespie Award

Props for You Can't Take it With You

awarded to Jean Burk, Linda Granger,

Ruth Howard and Mary Pomeroy

(Director Diana Lett was also integral in collecting props!)

Red White and Tuna

"This is one tuna that has a sweet smell: the smell of success. Starlight Dinner Theatre's production of Red, White and Tuna will keep open-minded audiences laughing from start to, well, "fin-ish". Michael Hays and James Houska reeled in Saturday night's crowd with sarcastic and witty dialogue."

Lansing City Pulse review, March 2016

You Can't Take It With You

"Elaborately entertaining—a fantastic theatrical circus! This wild farce was anything but sparse. With a 19-member cast—20 if you include the live cat—a four entrance set and more costumes than a wedding movie's obligatory dress montage, this comedic play is absolutely elaborate."

Season Twelve
2016-2017

Female version of
THE ODD COUPLE

by Neil Simon

Directed by Lisa Sodman Elzinga

October 14-15, 21-23

Sunday performance dessert only

Unger and Madison are at it again in Neil Simon's famous update of his comic classic! Slobbish, easygoing Olive Madison (Rachel Mender) invites the girls over for Trivial Pursuit (played by Kylie Rae Bisel-Densmore, Jean Burk, Beth Noeker Webb and Jan Ross). But when uptight, neat freak Florence Unger (Charlotte Ruppert) shows up, freshly separated from her husband, the game is over. The pair decide to room together, but Olive's simmering frustration with Florence's passive-aggressive dithering comes to a full boil when two single Spanish brothers from upstairs join the mix (Bobby Maldonado and Darryl Schmitz). Will these mismatched friends survive—or will they kill each other?
